

Kinjal and Sanket Dharod's mentorship program Profound Ripples helps youth navigate their adulting journey and visions, hand-in-glove with their parents

Life coaching for youngsters alongside parents

Elaborating about the program, Kinjal says, "Every child is unique and this initiative caters to that individuality with its personalised one-on-one approach. The program is customized to each individual child to identify his potential, personality, inherent talent, handicaps, mindset.

Our next generation is growing up in a world where the future is blurred and the global environment is changing at a maddening pace. They are disoriented, stressed, attention deficient and lost in the cynical digital world of social media.

HOLISTIC TRAINING

Profound Ripples is a humble attempt towards empowering the youth to become capable of leading a holistic, balanced, happy life as young adults. Beginning with getting the larger clarity of the long life ahead, we then bring together the smaller pieces by devising a roadmap, which acts as a compass to help them move in the right direction."

The one-year duration is conceived as phases, ensuring sustained, consistent, persistent transformation till it becomes second nature.

- Conceptual: perspective shift
- Exploration: widen the horizon
- Consolidation: align talents and traits
- Maturity: carve own goalposts
- Journey: walk the talk

Profound Ripples bridges the widening gap between parents and kids, while handholding kids' to transform their aspirations into reality. ■

Parenting is a daunting job and even the world's most successful CEO's develop cold feet when it comes to playing the role of parents. But handholding such parents and helping them navigate through the tough and everchanging landscape of parenting are Kinjal and Sanket Dharod and their mentorship program called Profound Ripples.

MENTORSHIP AT ITS BEST

Profound Ripples is a year-long one-on-one mentorship program for 7 to 17-years-old along with their parents. "We have devised and lead this initiative based on our own experience as parents.

As passionate hands-on parents, we have developed a distinct approach to parenting which challenges many pre-conceived mindsets and beliefs," say Kinjal and Sanket.

Both their sons have grown up uniquely with their own diverse proficiencies and accomplishments – author, artist, podcaster, musician, mountaineer, accelerated tech participant, scuba diver, skier, debater. Their elder son is pursuing undergrad at the World's #1 most innovative university with a 1.5% acceptance rate, living in seven global cities across the globe over four years.
